Water is an important resource. I have had to dig well deeper in last 10 years due to lower water table. Weather and proximity to the stone plant are a concern with water levels. Public water makes sense as we all head into an uncertain weather future. Cost will be a concern for all, but good water is essential to everyone. Thank you!

I would appreciate a better understanding of how this occurred. Perhaps this was relevant to the decision not to extend a line down Plank Road? Perhaps the green marking pertains to a different petition than the one circulated extensively last year? Thank you.

We're overall happy with our well water and concerned that adding water service now without sewer service would be more expensive if the town wants to add sewer service later. We chose Scenario 4 because the difference in cost between the scenarios seems negligible and it looks the most future-proof.

Northwest of Lima, and south Doran Rd. Things that should have been researched: 1. Find out how many homes are affected. 2. Determine if there are any Fed/NY grants that can cover the cost to install water cisterns/holding tanks for wells on those properties that have water problems. Also, check for any grants or funds to provide for those tanks/cisterns to be filled at reduced cost. That way, not everyone has to pay. I hope to retire in a couple years. I cannot afford to take on more monthly costs, especially since the Town of Lima decided to reassess properties during an inflated housing bubble year! With inflation, food costs rising, businesses slowing, and my pay rate not increasing to cover these added costs, an added water cost will turn into a hardship. Other ideas that meet the needs of the people affected by water problems, should have been considered before including the entire town. Thank you for reading.

I have a shallow well, and the pump is in my basement, so it is noisy and the pressure is hit or miss. For those reasons, I would welcome public water. My biggest concern about the introduction of public water is the increased opportunity for development. I would really prefer that Lima remain a small farming community. I would really hate for it to become Henrietta with constant rows of production homes being built in every corn field.

How many years to pay off the Debt Service amount? Q2: If a property own (who has a main run by their property) moves, how is the remainder of the Debt handled? Does the current property owner have to pay it all off or does it transfer to the new owner? Q3: Who is included in paying for the installation of the water mains? All of the town? There are areas that don't have mains run by their property. Do they pay anything or only if a main run by the property? Q4: Proposal 2 has 23 less EDUs because water is not provided to the northeast area, so less main piping would be installed BUT that cost $3 more than Proposal 2A which provides water. Granted, $3 is not much but it costs more when less is provided. Why? Q5: Proposal 3 does not installs the transmission main along East Main to Doran Rd but it cost $26 more than Proposal 4 which does install it. Why? One of my concerns is the amount of money (Debt Service) that it will cost to have a main run by my (or others') property because someone(s) else past my property would like the public water. I may have missed it, but I didn't see the total cost specified in this information. In the previous water district proposals 2 years ago, they talked of it costing 10's of thousands of dollars just to have the water mains install ($30,000 to $40,000); that amount did not include connecting to it. As a retired person, I am concerned about having to take on such a large debt, especially for something I don't plan to utilize. At this point, I have already invested in and have a functional water system. From the information that has been presented so far, it is cost prohibitive to connect to the public water. Since all the proposal maps show a water main running passed my property, I selected Proposal 1A because that would at least provide fire protection. And as a bonus it costs less than Proposal 1 which doesn't provide provide fire protection

We also believe it is wrong to continue with this project when the initial petition was tallied more than 80% of town residence were against this project, and from the numbers we see now the town and county are trying to put water in areas where the majority of homeowners do not want it. This is wrong from the standpoint of big government forcing its own will on the people. In regards to Doran Road, on the south end where water may be needed there is public water lines and a pump station 2 miles from Doran on Shelter Road. I have brought this to the attention of our town board at previous meetings. My suggestion would be for Mr. Molino and Mr. Falk to contact the Town of Richmond, Ontario County officials and most importantly the Monroe County Water Authority to see if there could be cooperation between the parties to get water to the south end of Doran Road. You could then leave the north end of Doran Road where public water, though my be wanted by some, is not an urgent need at this time. Lastly, at the time the initial water survey went out residence were told before this project went further there would be a household income survey done. We have yet to see this survey. Thank you.

The last thing I need as I retire now is to pay another bill for something I don't want, don't need and will not be hooking up to. Wells and septic systems are all part of living in the country. When we first built our home we had a very poor well. We saved and made do until we could afford to drill another. The idea of placing a tax burden on my neighbors to solve my problem never occurred to us. I also believe that running water lines through the town would spur development and quickly change the rural character of the town that we so love. So no, I am obviously not in favor of this project at all.

A similar project on Doran Rd a few years was defeated by the property owners because of cost. This town should be concerned about cost of these studies to our budget.

So many houses in this area are very far from the road so connecting to the system would be extremely expensive. Plus now the added cost of paying for the water if you do connect. Plus added taxes to everyone even if they do not connect. I live on a long country road with farmers fields and only seven houses. The cost of connecting to a public water system on our road just does not seem cost effective.

If those scenarios require the project to be subsidized by ALL Town residents, then I do not support any of the proposals. If the residents who are receiving the public water are responsible for all costs, then the residents of the proposed streets should vote on the scenario they are interested in. It's obvious from the maps there is limited interest so it makes sense that those supporting access to public water should pay for that benefit. Otherwise, get a water system if you're concerned about water quality and backup tanks if quantity is an issue.

I would've asked about whether the substances in each person's water were above safe limits rather than just present. There are acceptable levels of nitrates, versus what is harmful. Maybe that's just a matter of how the question was phrased. At any rate, there's a whole science of how we've damaged our drinking water, so what we should be doing is identifying which ones are problem elements given the levels at which they're present. The various Scenarios look like the further you get from Scenario 1 the town of Lima is making out rather well on their pumping station equipment -- if I understood the numbers. It seems like the closer we get to Scenario 4, the better the equipment and improvements to the town pumping station, with no additional spending from the town. I would sooner there be a second pumping station and utilize that one for the people who are paying for it, then if the town pumping station fails the town could buy pumping capacity from the new station -- but I could be reading too much into it.

The town's concentration of highly productive agricultural soils and strong farming business sector led the town to update its comprehensive plan in an effort to sustain its farmland and ag business sector. This effort to promulgate water beyond any area of genuine need runs entirely counter to that objective. The town's agricultural advisory committee was unanimous in its recommendation against this widespread plan. The town supervisor told the committee that "agriculture is not on the radar of any member of this town board." As affirmed by Ag & Markets, lateral restriction policy is not binding and can be readily waived. It is not the protective measure that some claim it to be in order to dismiss concerns regarding long-term impacts on agriculture.
